

Tomorrow is the deadline for online accreditations for the information broadcasting centre of the 21D elections

- Media that have failed to register after this date may do so in person in Pavilion 8 of Fira de Barcelona (Gran Via venue) on 20 and 21 December
- The period for collecting accreditations and setting up audio-visual means has been extended to Tuesday, 19 December

Tomorrow, Thursday, 14 December, is the last day for the online accreditations of the media that wish to cover the elections of 21 December from the information broadcasting centre that the Ministry of the Vice-presidency and of Economy and Finance has set up in Pavilion 8 of Fira de Barcelona, in the Gran Via venue (Carrer del Foc, 45). All newspapers, digital media, radio and television companies that have failed to complete the forms may register in person on 20 December and on polling day, 21 December, although it is advisable to formulate the registration in advance.

In addition, the period for collecting the previously requested accreditations has been extended and they will be available for collection as of Tuesday, 20 December and Wednesday, 21 December; press passes will be ready for collection on Tuesday, 19 December.

The accreditations will be collected in the special area in Pavilion 8 of Fira de Barcelona, from 10.00 to 20.00 on Tuesday, 19 December and Wednesday, 20 December, and on election day from 8.00 to the beginning of the last scheduled press release.

Finally, audio-visual media that have reserved space for cameras and technical equipment may set up their corresponding systems as of 19 December.

For more information: <http://www.parlament2017.cat/ca/sala-premsa/index.html>

Wednesday, 13 December 2017